NOTE AND CO.

Thus far there has been of course in the first place a great variation in the rent paid for Fourth-of-July residences. Cases are recorded in which $5 and even $10 has been paid for the use of a room for the day, while in other instances a whole house has been rented for $2100 or $2500 for the season. Since the fashion of taking country houses for the Fourth has become general, the prices have risen enormously. A man from Maine who owns a small cottage at Rockaway Beach, L. I., which he values at $1500, recently received an offer of $1000 for the use of the house for the Fourth. He refused it, and will probably let it for $1500 or $2000. Another Rockaway cottager, who has been in the habit of letting his house for $1000 for the season, has refused $1500 for the Fourth alone. Still higher prices are paid for houses in the vicinity of New-York. A man from Jersey City, who owns a house on the Hudson River, a few miles above Fort Lee, has been offered $1000 for the use of his house on the Fourth, but has refused it, preferring to keep it for the season, which he expects to let for $1500 or $2000. Another Jersey City man, who has a house on the Palisades, has been offered $1000 for the Fourth, but has refused it, preferring to keep it for the season, which he expects to let for $1500 or $2000. Making it Clear for the Cabby.

A grave and dignified D. D. who lives in the suburbs of Brooklyn was asked to officiate at the funeral of a friend who died in Jersey City. He was told to take the Pavonia ferry, and then to ask the cabman to drive him to the house of mourning. He did so, and when he got to the ferry he said to the cabman:

"Do you know where Mr. —— lives?"

"Sure I do," was the reply.

"Then drive me there."

"Shall I go through the tunnel?"

"Yes, if you think best."

"Shall I go over the bridge?"

THE LOTTERY

Dimes and dollars I adore
In empty pockets one or four
If a man in dimes give him a dime
Straight he begs for fifty times
Twenty happiness is west
Dimes and dollars I detest
Dimes will never buy me love
Send me dollars by the dove
Four and a dollar are the best
Four and a dollar I detest

Dimes and dollars I adore
In empty pockets one or four
I have a pocket full of dimes
What shall I do with all the times
Who owes to live on dimes I pity
But poor he is and poor he will be
I spurned and hate dimes I
I scorn not six dimes
Although twelve dimes I
Dimes will not buy me love
The lightest egg at most
Who will not love a
Dimes and dollars I detest
An empty pocket with a crest

Send me wealth—no matter
No questions ask of
Bestow upon me all
Quick let me be legal
Let the church and
Come to cardinal counsels
Support my later
But don't be poor
Dimes and dollars I detest
An empty pocket with a crest
